VE Day | Bee Yourself Day | SATs Week

VE Day

On Thursday this week, we celebrated the 80th anniversary of VE Day in school. The school was a flood with red, white and blue as the children immersed themselves in the history of the day. There were lots of activities happening all across school including making Union Jacks, testing air resistance by making model spitfires, code breaking activities and an assembly which showed the importance of celebrating this day.

This day is special to so many of our families who may have had family members in the war. It was clear that the children had a wonderful day celebrating as you can see from the pictures.

Bee Yourself Day

As part of our fundraising efforts for the Summer Fair, next Friday (16th May) we are going to celebrate our Bee Yourself day. The children can come into school with an outfit that represents them. This could be something from their culture or could be an activity that they enjoy doing. We are asking that a voluntary donation of vegan sweets are brought in. We ask for vegan sweets so that all members of our school community can enjoy the sweets if they win them at the Summer fair.

SATs Week

Our Year 6 children will be taking their SATs papers next week. The teachers and children have worked so hard in order to feel prepared for the week and we are ready to show what we can do. I am immensely proud of all the children for the progress that they have made and the young people that they have become. Regardless of their own personal results, I want the children to feel that sense of pride in themselves. The children will be invited in at 8am from Monday-Thursday to have breakfast in school to ensure that they are prepared for their tests.

Kind regards,

Pete Cope

and the Etchells staff
